The rules of the association were offered. Rule it read that any party to the agreement having information that another party was violating it was to produce the evidence before the Supervisor, who would examine books and call witnesses, and if the information was found true the delinquent party was to be fined not less than 1500 and not more than 51,000. By. Holton said this rule was never enforced.

"Who was the Supervisor?" asked Mr. Diokinson.

"Edwin E. Jackson," said the winess.
"Diokinson." said the winess.

The witness said that the agreement applied to interstate business, but not to foreign commerce. He added that the association never fixed the prices on Government bids, but that Jackson with the prices of the pr

Mr. Dickinson then offered in evidence correspondence that passed between Jackson and the Bryden Company.

One letter from Jackson referred to the efforts to bring the Standard company into the association. The company, said Jackson, was gaining ground that and West. The letter sies referred to a Mr. McEiroy, who was about to start a horseshoe plant in Epin. Pa. "If don't think it would be wise to appreach life. Elivoy at this time." Jackson wrote. The witness said that it had also been the degire to bring the McEiroy company into the association.

A letter from Eiolion to Jackson was read, in which Holton complained that the American Steel and Wire Company was volating the agreement regarding prices on the Honolulu trade. "Unless some action is taken." wrote Holton. "wa shall see that we get our share of the business." Mr. Dickinson then offered in evide
